

Xda[®] Mantle

Designed for...

The Xda Mantle is ideal for business customers who need key services like email, browsing and data applications on a large screen. The Xda Mantle combines great features with a robust, semi-ruggedised device.

From logistics to warehousing and transportation, this full-featured PDA fits perfectly into any industry. With the open Windows architecture, it is simple to develop custom industry-specific applications that extend the use of the device far beyond making calls and sending emails.

A bit more detail

- Windows Mobile[®] to view, edit and attach Microsoft Word and Excel documents. Includes a Powerpoint viewer to look at presentations
- Microsoft[®] Direct Push Email capability – allowing customers to send and receive emails (including HTML format) and synchronise over the air with their desktop
- Large 3.5 inch touch screen makes it ideal for applications, media and data to be viewed with complete clarity
- In-built GPS broadens the number of applications the Xda Mantle can support helping businesses mobilise their existing applications
- Combine the Xda Mantle with CoPilot software application for a full satellite navigation experience
- Featuring a fingerprint sensor as an alternative to PIN code locking
- 3.0 mega-pixel camera with auto focus – great for taking pictures and video clips
